

HUGO GARCÍA

CURRICULUM VITAE

Citizenship MEXICO

Education

2007-present Ph. D. Student. Department of Linguistics. University of New Mexico. (Possible dissertation topic on Speech Acts Typology. Intended Advisor: William Croft).

1999-2002 M.A. in Applied Linguistics. Department of Indigenous studies. University of Guadalajara (Thesis: "Proxemic iconicity in verbal interaction"; Stephen W. Gilbert, principal advisor).

1990-1997 B. A. in Literature. Department of Literature. University of Guadalajara.

Positions

2008-present Department of Spanish and Portuguese, University of New Mexico (Teaching Associate).

Courses taught: Spanish Phonetics and Spanish 101.

2007-2008 Department of Spanish and Portuguese. University of New Mexico (Teaching Assistant).

Courses taught: Spanish 101

2006-present Department of Literature. University of Guadalajara (Associate Professor)

Courses taught for graduate students: Pragmatics.

Courses taught for undergraduate students: Pragmatics, Spanish Morphosyntax, Hispanic Philology.

2002-2006 Department of Literature. University of Guadalajara (Assistant Professor)

Courses taught for graduate students: Pragmatics, Morphosyntax.

Courses taught for undergraduate students: Spanish Morphosyntax, Hispanic Philology.

2001-2002 Department of Literature. University of Guadalajara (Lecturer)

Courses taught for graduate students: Morphosyntax, Applied Linguistics.

Courses taught for undergraduate students: Hispanic Philology, Spanish

Morphosyntax.

1996-2000 Center of Studies for Foreign Students. University of Guadalajara. (Instructor)

Courses taught: All levels of Spanish for foreign students.

University Administration

University of Guadalajara

2002-2007 Graduate Committee. M. A. in Applied Linguistics. University of Guadalajara

1997-1999 Academic Coordinator. Center of Studies for Foreign Students in the City of Puerto Vallarta.

Professional Organizations

2007-present International Cognitive Linguistics Association