

TOURISM WEBSITES

Research & Statistics

Provides links to research, statistics, marketing reports, demographics and psychographics for tourism researchers

Another site provides links to tourism providers for travelers on how to travel, safety, destination information, and airline reservations.

Tourism Management Program
Anderson School of Management
University of New Mexico
Edition: October 3, 2002

This list can be accessed on the WWW; with the direct “clickable” links that allow the user to directly access the www sites without retyping them.
Click here >> <ftp://asm.unm.edu/Dry/Websites%20Tourism.doc>

Disclaimer: Use these web sites as only one of your sources of information to plan your trips; don't accept any claims or opinions as the absolute truth. The author does not assume any responsibility for your use of these sites; use them at your own risk.

Please e-mail or call the author with any of your travel and tourism website discoveries or information needs.

Dr. Eddie Dry
Tourism Management Program
Anderson Schools of Management
University of New Mexico
Albuquerque, New Mexico 87131 USA

edry@unm.edu
Telephone: (505) 277-3403
Fax: (505) 277-7108

Annuals of Tourism Research	http://www.elsevier.com http://www.sagepub.com One of the most respected academic research journals in tourism.
U.S. Office of Tourism Industries	http://tinet.ita.doc.gov U.S. tourism arrivals and departures by countries. Tourism economic impact surveys by US and state.
Recreation research	http://www.trrworld.com An on-line tourism research journal. Articles on religious tourism, farm tourism, ecotourism, adventure tourism, etc
Travel & Tourism Research Association	http://www.ttra.org TTRA is the largest worldwide association of tourism researchers. Recent articles: whitewater tourism, space tourism, sports tourism.
Travel Industry Assn. Of America	http://www.tia.org The Domestic Travel Market Report is TIA's annual market overview of the 1.018 billion person-trips taken domestically by U.S. residents. It includes trip characteristics and traveler demographics for all U.S. domestic travelers in 2001, as well as for several market segments. Travel segments profiled include: business travelers, leisure travelers, air and auto travelers, beach travelers, solo travel, travel with children, and several others. Demographic segments profiled include four income groups, three age groups, and 15 PRIZM geo-demographic groups. This report also includes a review of the economic environment and overall travel industry performance in 2001.
American Demographics Magazine	http://www.inside.com/default.asp?entity=AmericanDemo Excellent reference for demographic and psychographic studies of buyers of tourism as well as thousands of other products.
Statistical Abstract of the US	http://www.census.gov/statab/www/ Excellent reference for demographic characteristics of Americans. Annually updated.
Countries - Tourism WWW sites	http://www.twcrossroads.com/directories/infoindex.html
Demographic & Economic Statistics Links	http://www.tia.org/Links/linkresults.asp CIA, World Bank, Federal Reserve Bank, Standard & Poors, Dept of Commerce, White House, many more.
Statistics from all US gov't agencies	http://www.stat-usa.gov/
Ecotourism (See also Adventure Travel)	http://www.ecotourism.org This excellent organization has the best statistics, tours, and clearinghouse for information of any organization in the field.

World Tourism Organization	http://www.world-tourism.org WTO, World Tourism Organization, an agency of the U.N. deals primarily with tourism development in emerging countries. Based in Madrid Spain maintains the most comprehensive set of tourism statistics databases: employment, growth, rankings
Public lands	http://www.publiclands-usa.com/html/explore/search.asp Discover the incredible recreational opportunities, fascinating history, and spectacular scenery of your public lands. By state (45% of New Mexico is public land), explore by agency (see below): Bureau of Land Management Lands National Parks & Monuments National Forests and Grasslands National Wildlife Refuges Lakes: Bureau of Reclamation Lakes: U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Military Reservations State Parks, Monuments and Other Lands Wilderness Areas Wild & Scenic Rivers
State tourism departments and information	http://www.information-usa.com/ Information USA provides listings and LINKS to ALL 50 United States Of America, together with, United States Travel and Tourism Offices, (i.e. Chamber of Commerce offices, Convention and Visitors Bureaus, Regional Tourism Offices, etc.). Information USA's Travel and Vacation database also provides you with other useful travel and vacation information, such as, accommodations (hotels, motels, B&B's, camping and more), attractions, casinos, amusement parks, etc
State & Countries websites	http://www.twcrossroads.com/directories/infoindex.html