

College of Education
Health Education – Community Health, M.S.

Broad Learning Goals

- A. The Health Education MS student will have proficiency in developing advanced Community Health Education Research Campaigns for under-served and under-represented populations.

Student Learning Outcomes

- A1. Student will be able to design and implement effective prevention-based campaigns that reduce risk factor profiles of specific communities.
- A2. Students will be able to evaluate prevention-based campaigns using both qualitative and/or quantitative methodologies in conjunction with current technological applications.

College of Education
Health Education – School Health, M.S.

Broad Learning Goals

- B. The health education teacher candidate demonstrates effective planning and evaluation of instructional strategies in health education.

Student Learning Outcomes

- A2. The candidate will demonstrate effective conceptualization of lesson planning aligned with national content standards.
- A3. The candidate will effectively design a comprehensive school health plan.