

School of Engineering Construction Management, MCM

Broad Learning Goals

Graduates will successfully advance in their careers through:

- A. Technical competence in construction management
- B. Demonstration of professional skills appropriate for the global construction marketplace
- C. An ability to communicate technical/management results in appropriate forums

Student Learning Outcomes

Students receiving their Masters degrees in Construction Management will:

- 1. Exhibit knowledge of management and science fundamentals in construction management
- 2. Be able to communicate effectively
- 3. Demonstrate the ability to critically assess information in construction management