

Fall 2007 International Lecture Series
Safety in a Nuclear World:
Fears, Hopes, and Realities

The University of New Mexico's Center for Science, Technology, and Policy is pleased to be a cosponsor of the Santa Fe Council on International Relations' Fall 2007 International Lecture Series on "Safety in a Nuclear World: Fears, Hopes, and Realities." Our first speaker, on Saturday, October 6, 2007, at 3:00 pm, will be Richard Rhodes on "Where Have All the Secrets Gone? A Layman's Guide to Nukes." This event will take place at The Forum, College of Santa Fe. Richard Rhodes is the author of twenty books, including The Making of the Atomic Bomb, which won a Pulitzer Prize in Nonfiction, a National Book Award, and a National Book Critics Circle Award, and Dark Sun: The Making of the Hydrogen Bomb. He is an affiliate of the Center for International Security and Cooperation at Stanford University and is currently working on a third volume of nuclear history, Endgame.
