

*The UNM Feminist Research Institute and
The Office for Policy, Security, and Technology*

Present

A Forum on Opportunities and Challenges for Women in Science and Engineering

Wednesday, March 29, 2006

9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Acoma Room

UNM Student Union Building

8:30-9:00: Registration

9-9:15 a.m.: Welcome

Dr. Anita Obermeier, Director, Feminist Research Institute, and
Dr. Andrew L. Ross, Director, Office for Policy, Security, and Technology
Dr. Vera Norwood, Interim Dean of Arts and Sciences

9:15-10:45 a.m.: Panel Discussion on Women in Academia

Moderator: Dr. Deborah Sulsky, Professor of Mathematics, UNM
Dr. Julia Fulghum, Chair of Chemical and Nuclear Engineering, UNM
Dr. Mary Lipscomb, Chair of Pathology, UNM
Dr. Tanja Pietraß, Chair of Chemistry, New Mexico Tech
Dr. Mousumi Roy, Assistant Professor of Earth and Planetary Sciences, UNM--invited
Dr. Sally Seidel, Professor of Physics, UNM

11 a.m.: Plenary Session: "Women in Science and Engineering: What Do We Know, Where Do We Go?"

Dr. Jane Zimmer-Daniels, Director of the Clare Boothe Luce Program (for Women in the Sciences, Mathematics and Engineering) at the Henry Luce Foundation

12-1 p.m.: Lunch Break

1-2:15 p.m.: Panel Discussion on Women in National Security

Moderator: Dr. Janie Chermak, Associate Professor of Economics, UNM
Sandra Begay-Campbell, SNL, and Member, UNM Board of Regents
Dr. Nancy Jackson, Deputy Director, International Security Center, SNL
Dr. Susan J. Seestrom, Associate Director for Weapons Physics, LANL--invited
Major General Annette L. Sobel, USAFNG, SNL

2:30-3:45 p.m.: Panel Discussion on Women in Private Industry

Moderator: Dr. Diana Huffaker, Associate Professor of Electrical & Computer Engineering,
UNM-invited

Peg Billson, CEO Eclipse Aviation—invited

Selene Dominguez, Process Engineering Group Leader, Intel Corp

Lisa Kuuttila, President of UNM's Science and Technology Corporation

Karen McCoy, Senior Engineer, Intel Corp

Cathy Newman, Process Engineer, Intel Corp

Co-Sponsored by the School of Engineering

To RSVP or for more information, please contact Dr. Anita Obermeier, FRI Director, at femresin@unm.edu or 277-1198.