

Southwest Seminar in Early Modern Philosophy
California Institute of Technology
28 Feb – 1 March 2009

Unless otherwise noted, all Seminar events will take place in the Treasury Room in Dabney Hall.

Saturday 28 February

- 9-9:30am Continental Breakfast
- 9:30a-11am “The Challenging Patient: Medicine in the Correspondence between Descartes and Princess Elisabeth”
Susan Mills, Grant MacEwan College
- 11:15am-12:25pm “Malebranche on Knowing One’s Own Mind”
Matthew Shockey, Indiana University - South Bend
- 12:30-1:30pm Lunch
- 1:30-2:40pm “Hume on Continence and Virtue”
Kate Abramson, Indiana University
- 2:45-3:55pm “Explanation, Newtonianism, and the Way of Ideas: Philosophical Method in the Scottish Enlightenment”
Ryan Nichols, University of Kansas
- 4-4:30pm Coffee Break
- 4:30-5:40pm “Lebniz, Body and Monad”
Daniel Garber, Princeton University
- 6:30-9pm Conference Dinner at Saladang Song
Address: 363 S Fair Oaks Ave; Phone: 626-793-5200

Sunday 1 March

- 9-9:30am Continental Breakfast
- 9:30-10:40am “Locke’s Familiar Substratum”
Robert Pasnau, University of Colorado – Boulder
- 10:45-11:55am “Inherence-Causation-Conceivability in Spinoza, or On the Delicate Art of Bullet-Biting”
Yitzhak Melamed, Johns Hopkins University

For further information, including paper abstracts, please visit the Seminar web site:
<http://www.unm.edu/~mdomski/swseminar09.html>