

Culture and Global eLearning (OLIT 537)

(Register for Fall 2008 under OLIT 593)

UNM's Organizational Learning & Instructional Technology Program

Offers an Online Course in Fall 2008

As an online learning community, participants explore the sociocultural dimensions of eLearning and challenges to implementing eLearning in other cultural contexts. They address issues in international eLearning and study eLearning systems from around the world. Participants examine how eLearning can be used to understand and solve global issues and engage in developing an eLearning project for a developing country.

Instructor: Charlotte N. (Lani) Gunawardena, Ph.D.

E-mail: lanig@unm.edu

Take this course as an elective, as part of the OLIT eLearning Professional Development Certificate Program, or to complete the requirements of the OLIT Master's Program.

