

SUSAN M. BROOKHART
DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY

Feedback to Students: Lessons from the Literature

Have you ever struggled with giving feedback to your students? Susan Brookhart will outline the evidence-based practices for providing effective feedback to learners.

Thursday, June 25th

11:45 to 12:45 p.m.

Technology and Education Center 101

(Building #64 on a Campus Map)

Susan M. Brookhart is a Senior Research Associate at Duquesne University having retired as a Professor and Department Chair.

She is the author or co-author of several of the most popular books on feedback and classroom assessment including: How to Give Effective Feedback to Your Students; Grading; Educational Assessment of Students; The Art and Science of Classroom Assessment: The Missing Part of Pedagogy; and Writing Instructional Objectives.

• This presentation is sponsored by:

- The Stemmler Medical Education Research Fund
- The UNM Office of Support for Effective Teaching

THE UNIVERSITY of
NEW MEXICO