

2008 NEW MEXICO STATE LEGISLATIVE INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

The Department of Political Science is taking applications for the 2008 New Mexico State Legislative Internship program. Participants in the program will be assigned to members of the New Mexico State Legislature for one week during the 2008 legislative session. Interns will be in a unique position to observe the operation of the legislature first-hand.

Each intern will work full-time at assigned duties during the week. The intern reports at 9:00 a.m. on the Monday of his/her assigned week and resides in Santa Fe until released at the close of the week's legislative session. Interns receive a stipend of $300 to help cover their Santa Fe expenses. They also receive one hour of academic credit (granted on a credit/no credit basis) upon completion of the internship and submission of a daily internship journal and short summary paper to the internship coordinator.

Applications are available in the Political Science Department office (Social Sciences Building, Room # 2059). The deadline to submit applications is November 16, 2007. If you have any questions about the program, please contact Professor Lonna Atkeson at 277-5104.

Completed applications should be turned in to the Political Science Department, Room # 2059.
