

Selected Works by Wilcox, Phyllis

- * Lamb, Lloyd / Wilcox, Phyllis: Acceptance of American Sign Language at the University of New Mexico: The history of a process. In: Sign Language Studies 17: 59 (1988) – pp. 213–220
- * Wilcox, Phyllis / Davis, Jeffrey: The use of corrective and supportive feedback in the ASL classroom environment. In: Padden, Carol A. (ed): Proceedings of the Fourth National Symposium on Sign Language Research and Training. Las Vegas, Nevada. January 27 – February 1, 1986. Silver Spring : NAD (1986) – pp. 151–167
- * Wilcox, Phyllis / Schroeder, Fred / Martinez, Theresa: A commitment to professionalism: Educational interpreting within a large public school system. In: Sign Language Studies 19: 68 (1990) – pp. 277–286
- * Wilcox, Phyllis / Schroeder, Fred / Martinez, Theresa: Die Professionalität verpflichtet – Anforderungen an Dolmetscher für den Einsatz im Unterricht an öffentlichen Regelschulen. In: Das Zeichen 5: 15 (1991) – pp. 84–88
- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: Schema theory and language interpretation: a study of sign language interpreters. In: Southwest Journal of Linguistics 6: 1 (1983) – pp. 56–63
- * Wilcox, Phyllis / Sanderson, Gary / Santiago, Jo: Triangulation of interpreting relationships: A model for connecting educational interpreter standards. In: Proceedings of the 1991 Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf Convention. Bethesda, MD (1992)
- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: Learning to see: American Sign Language as a second language. (Language in education; 76) Englewood Cliffs, N.J. : Prentice Hall Regents 1991 – 134 p.
- * Lamb, Lloyd / Wilcox, Phyllis: Acceptance of American Sign Language at the University of New Mexico: The history of a process. In: Wilcox, Sherman (ed): Academic acceptance of American Sign Language. (SLS Monographs) Silver Spring, MD : Linstok Pr. (1992) – pp. 163–172

- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: Teaching ASL as a second language. Washington, D.C. : ERIC Clearinghouse on Languages and Linguistics 1991 – 3 p. Manuscript
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Dual interpretation and discourse effectiveness in legal settings. In: Journal of Interpretation .The Bilingual/Bimodal Courtroom. Special Issue 7: 1 (1995) – pp. 89–98
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: San Diego Conference on Conceptual Structure, Discourse and Language. In: Signpost 8: 1–2 (1995) – pp. 40
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Deontic and epistemic modals in ASL: A discourse analysis. In: Goldberg, Adele (ed): Conceptual structure, discourse and language. Cambridge : Cambridge Univ. Pr. (1996) – pp. 481–492
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Metaphoric mapping in American Sign Language. 1993 – 203 p.: Univ. of New Mexico Dissertation
- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: The gestural expression of modality in ASL. In: Bybee, Joan / Fleischman, Suzanne (eds): Modality in grammar and discourse. Amsterdam, Philadelphia : Benjamins (1995) – pp. 135–162
- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: Learning to see: American Sign Language as a second language. In: Language Learning. A journal of applied linguistics 43: 1 (1993) – pp. 131
- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: Learning to see : American Sign Language as a second language. 2. ed. Washington, DC : Gallaudet Univ. Press 1997 – x, 145 p.
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: GIVE: Acts of giving in American Sign Language. In: Newman, John (ed): The linguistics of giving. Amsterdam, Philadelphia : Benjamins (1997) – pp. 175–207
- * Jarque, Maria-Josep / Wilcox, Phyllis: Visual metaphorical and metonymic meaning in two signed languages: ASL and LSC. Paper presented at the 7th International Conference on Theoretical Issues in Sign Language Research. July 23rd–27th. Amsterdam 2000 Manuscript

- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Metaphor in American Sign Language. Washington, DC : Gallaudet Univ. Press 2000 – xv, 213 p.
- * Wilcox, Phyllis / Bienvenu, MJ: Linguistic terminology explained in ASL. Burtonsville, Md. : SMI 1999 (Video 45min)
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Review of ³ Language from the body: Iconicity and metaphor in American Sign Language² by Sarah F. Taub. In: Sign language and linguistics 5: 2 (2002) – pp. 254ℏ258
- * Wilcox, Phyllis / Wilcox, Sherman: American Sign Language. In: Rosenthal, Judith W. (ed): Handbook of undergraduate second language education. Mahwah, NJ : Erlbaum (2000) – pp. 115–137
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: A cognitive key: Metonymic and metaphorical mappings in ASL. In: Cognitive Linguistics: Cognitive approaches to signed language research 15: 2 (2004) – pp. 197–222
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Cross-linguistic analysis of metaphor and metonymy in signed languages. Poster. In: TISLR 8 Barcelona, September 30 – October 2. Programme and Abstracts. (International Conference on Theoretical Issues in Sign Language Research; 8) (2004) – pp. 202–203
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Melanie Metzger, Bilingualism and Identity in Deaf Communities. In: Sign Language Studies 5: 1 (2004) – pp. 118–136
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: Introduction [Special issue: Metaphor in signed languages]. In: Sign Language Studies 5: 3 (2005) – pp. 264–266
- * Wilcox, Phyllis: What do you think? Metaphor in thought and communication domains in American Sign Language. In: Sign Language Studies 5: 3 (2005) – pp. 267–291
- * Wilcox, Sherman / Wilcox, Phyllis: Schema theory and language interpretation: a study of sign language interpreters. In: Journal of Interpretation 2 (1985) – pp. 84–93
- * Phyllis Perrin Wilcox. “Constructs of the Mind: Cross-linguistic Contrast of Metaphor in Spoken and Signed languages.” In E.

Pizzuto, P. Pietradrea & R. Simone (Eds.), Verbal and Signed Languages: Comparing structures, constructs and methodologies. Mouton de Gruyter, Berlin/New York. 249–270. 2007.