

Intensive Language & Culture Programs Summer 2008

Mandarin Chinese

Summer School on Chinese Language & Culture, Hong Kong Polytechnic University, July 2-31, 2008. Chinese language and Culture, 6 credits

UNM students can attend this special Chinese language program, paying their regular UNM summer tuition. The program includes 3 credits of elementary Chinese and 3 credits of Chinese Culture. Students stay in campus residence halls and participate in cultural activities. There is an optional trip to Xi'an, ancient imperial capital and site of the Terra Cotta warriors, available August 1-8, with an additional charge. For more information, contact the check the website:

<http://www.polyu.edu.hk/~aeco/public/summerschool.htm>, then contact Carpenter, OIPS Study Abroad Advisor, 277-4032, E-mail: carpenk@unm.edu or studyabd@unm.edu.

Spanish

Spanish Language Programs in Mexico and Spain

Short-term sessions available all summer.

Study intensive Spanish at any level at an intensive language school with optional homestays, excursions, volunteer opportunities, and much more. Programs available in Mexico in Cuernavaca, Guadalajara, Guanajuato, Mexico City, Oaxaca, Taxco or Xalapa, or in Granada, Spain. Some schools offer college credit. For more information, check the website at: <http://laji.unm.edu/study.php> or contact Robyn Côté, Latin American & Iberian Institute, 277-2961 or E-mail: rcote@unm.edu.

French

French Intensive Language Program, University of Savoie, Chambéry, France.

Learn French in the shadow of the Alps in Chambéry, one of the most charming of French cities, located near the borders with Switzerland, Germany and Italy. Small, intensive classes at beginning and intermediate levels are available in June and July, ranging from one to seven weeks in length. Campus housing or family stays available. Summer school students will benefit from the wide range of tourist and festive activities that characterize this time of year in Chambéry and Savoie. Extracurricular activities include hiking in the Alps, tennis, sailing, biking, and much more.

For more information, check the website: <http://www.isefe.univ-savoie.fr/>
Then contact OIPS study abroad advisors, 277-4032, E-mail: studyabd@unm.edu.

Japanese

Japanese Intensive Language Program, Ritsumeikan University, Kyoto, Japan. Spend a month studying Japanese language and culture in the enchanting ancient city of Kyoto. May 26-June 20, 2008. One of the attractions of the program is that Ritsumeikan University students also participate as ‘buddies,’ providing help in the Japanese classes as well as accompanying participants on most of the fieldwork excursions. Self-catering apartments or accommodations in the Kyoto International Students House. Application deadline April 4, 2008. For more information, check the website: http://www.ritsumei.ac.jp/eng/international_programs/rsjp/index.shtml, then contact OIPS study abroad advisors, 277-4032, E-mail: studyabd@unm.edu.

Japanese Intensive Language Program, Akita International University, Akita, Japan. Intensive Japanese language and culture program in a beautiful mountain setting in Northern Japan. June 23-August 1. Intensive study in small classes, housing in campus residence halls. Application deadline April 1. For more information, check the website: http://www.aiu.ac.jp/is/pdf/summer_program_2008/summer_program_2008.pdf then contact OIPS study abroad advisors, 277-4032, E-mail: studyabd@unm.edu.