

Name _____

Book _____ Assignment _____

Passage Master: Your job is to locate a few special sections of the reading that the group should look back on. The idea is to help people notice the most interesting, puzzling, or important parts of the text. You decide which passages or paragraphs are worth reviewing and then jot down plans for how they will be shared with the group. You can read passages aloud or have the group read them silently and then discuss.

Location	Reason for Picking	Plan for Reading
1. Page _____	_____	_____
Paragraph _____	_____	_____
	_____	_____
2. Page _____	_____	_____
Paragraph _____	_____	_____
	_____	_____
3. Page _____	_____	_____
Paragraph _____	_____	_____
	_____	_____
4. Page _____	_____	_____
Paragraph _____	_____	_____
	_____	_____
5. Page _____	_____	_____
Paragraph _____	_____	_____
	_____	_____

- |                   |                              |
|-------------------|------------------------------|
| Important         | Informative                  |
| Surprising        | Controversial                |
| Confusing         | Connected to other knowledge |
| Thought-provoking | Helpful                      |

Adapted from Daniels, H. (1994). Literature Circles: Voice and choice in the student-centered classroom. York, ME: Stenhouse.