What is ROTC?
Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) trains college students to become commissioned officers in the Armed Forces while supporting their undergraduate education. ROTC focuses on preparing students for a career in the U.S. Military, emphasizing leadership, basic military education, and officer training.

Joining ROTC
Admission requirements, scholarships, and timelines vary between branches. The best way to find out how to join is to visit their websites and reach out to the branch you are interested in.

GPA Requirements
ROTC students are held to a high academic standard. As future officers in the U.S. Military, cadets and midshipmen represent the branches that they will commission into and are expected to maintain good grades and be respectful and responsible students.

ROTC Course Load
• 3-5 credits/semester
• Academic Course (1-3 credits)
• Leadership Lab (1 credit)
• Physical Training (1 credit)

For more specific information, ask the Cadre in your branch.

ROTC at UNM
UNM is the only higher education institution in New Mexico to host all three ROTC programs and one of approximately only 50 nationwide.
• Naval ROTC – Navy and Marines
• Army ROTC – Army
• Air Force ROTC – Air Force and Space Force
UNM is a Military Friendly® Top Ten Tier One Research School

Service Obligation
All ROTC students who commission incur an active-duty commitment, usually between 4-10 years, depending on branch and position. For example, pilots normally incur a ten-year active-duty service commitment after successfully completing their training.
To find out more specific information, discuss your career plans with your branch.

The military is specifically interested in students studying:

- Engineering
  - Chemical
  - Civil
  - Computer
  - Construction
  - Electrical
  - Mechanical
  - Nuclear
- Computer Science
- Languages
- Chemistry
- Physics
- Mathematics
- Nursing

Apart from the majors listed to the left, many ROTC students choose to study:

- Business Administration
  - Accounting
  - Film and Digital Arts
  - Finance
  - General Management
  - Human Resources Management
  - Management Information Systems
  - Marketing Management
  - Operations Management
- Military Studies
- Global and National Security
- Liberal Arts
- Political Science
- Criminology
- Sociology
- Biology

General Education

(31 CREDIT HOURS)

General Education empowers students to face a rapidly changing world with the ability to frame questions and solve problems. Complementing the major, general education courses provide a set of strategies: communication, critical thinking, information analysis, quantitative skills, responsibility towards local and global communities.

Exploring different general education areas can be a great college strategy to find out what really interests you. Or, if you have a major in mind, your advisor can help you identify some courses to help you prepare for your next steps. Either way, browsing the course descriptions in areas of study will help you find courses that take you to unexpected places.

Area 1: Communication (6 credit hours)
- ENGL 1120: Composition II (3)
- Additional course selected from approved list (not ENGL 1110)

Area 2: Mathematics and Statistics (3 credit hours)
- One math course at the appropriate level selected from approved list
- Typically MATH 1220: College Algebra or MATH 1350: Introduction to Statistics

Area 3: Physical and Natural Sciences (4 credit hours)
- One course selected from approved list (3)
- The appropriate related laboratory section (1)

Area 4: Social and Behavioral Sciences (3 credits)
- One course selected from approved list (3)

Area 5: Humanities (3 credit hours)
- One course selected from approved list (3)

Area 6: Second Language (3 credit hours)
- One foreign language course at the appropriate level (3)

Area 7: Arts and Design (3 credit hours)
- One course selected from approved list

Area 8: Student Choice (6 credit hours)
- Two additional general education courses chosen from two different areas (1-7).
- ENGL 1110 may be used to fulfill part of Area 8 requirements.

Depending on your major, there may be specific general education courses that are required. For example, Anderson School of Management requires ENGL 2120: Intermediate Composition or ENGL 2210: Professional and Technical Communication. Criminology and Sociology require MATH 1350: Introduction to Statistics. Check with your major advisor for recommendations.

U.S. & Global Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, & Power Requirement (3 credits)
This requirement is separate from general education and may overlap with a course from one of the general education areas, usually Area 5. Completion of an approved University of New Mexico course: U.S. & Global Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, & Power Requirement.
Purpose: To monitor progress toward degree, ensure all requirements are met, and outline the path to graduation.

Frequency of Update: once per semester (or more)

- AROTC: 104-R
- AFROTC: Form-48

LoboAchieve is an advising application that allows students to schedule appointments with advisors, and access advising session notes. All advising appointments are made via LoboAchieve.

If you are currently an active UNM student but not currently a Military Studies/ROTC student, you will need to click on the "Advising Offices" tab and "Search Advising Office" to manually search for "ROTC" which is part of the University College Advising Center. Please only schedule with Ms. Merrill, not the other UCAC advisors also found there.

If you are a prospective or returning student without a current UNM NetID, you may also access LoboAchieve using the "non-UNM sign in" option and creating an account. Please do not create an account if you have an existing/active UNM NetID, or have recently been accepted to UNM and just need to setup a NetID (which may be done via this link: https://netid.unm.edu/). If you have an active NetID but have simply forgotten your password please see this link to reset: http://it.unm.edu/accounts/change-password.html

If you need additional help using LoboAchieve, the following website has a walkthrough to help you: https://advisement.unm.edu/resources/technology/loboachieve/index.html
Basic Expectations
FOR CADETS AND MIDSHIPMEN
AS RELATED TO THE ROTC ACADEMIC ADVISOR

- LoboAchieve.unm.edu will be utilized for scheduling appointments and determining walk-in hours for current and prospective students.
- If a scheduled appointment needs to be cancelled, this should be done so by 1600 the day before unless an illness or emergency arises.
- ROTC students will refer to the Advisor as Mr./Ms. or Sir/Ma’am, not by first name.
- Unless a lengthier timeline is stipulated, students will respond to functional emails originating from the Advisor within 48-hours (excluding weekends) while UNM is in session, and the Advisor will normally do the same in return for student-initiated emails.
- ROTC degree plans will be prepared and/or updated via a live meeting (not email/Zoom) unless the Advisor determines otherwise.
- Work will not unknowingly be duplicated between the Advisor and other UNM Staff.
- Graduating students may be removed from the ROTC early degree certification list if they fail to comply with the tasks/deadlines given by the Advisor as part of that process.

Common Pitfalls

LoboAchieve appointments must be booked in advance.
- Availability is locked at 1600 the business day before
Follow the academic plan set out on your Degree Plan!
Make sure you sign up for PT: bump your GPA, get upper-division credits!
- 15 credit hours costs the same as 18
Most scholarships require 15 credit hours per semester.
- Classes that you withdraw from do not count towards this 15, Ds and Fs do.
Repeated non-repeatable courses do not count toward scholarship hours, the required credit hours must be new credit hours
- Example: You got a C- in ENGL1120
- Example: AFAS329, MLSL229, and NVSC110L are all repeatable courses that do count.
Sometimes holds may prevent you from being able to register. It is best to resolve these prior to registration week to prevent any registration delays. The most common holds are:

- Admissions, Incomplete
  You were admitted without final semester grades from your last institution. You will need to have your previous school send your official transcript to apply@unm.edu.

- Advisement
  You most likely need to meet with your major advisor for a Plan of Study Review or transition from Pre-Major to Major status. You should make an appointment using LoboAchieve. Some of the Engineering disciplines resolve these holds using forms instead of meetings.

- Bursar
  There is an issue with your account. You should contact the Bursar’s office to find out how to resolve it.

Holds | http://registrar.unm.edu/Registration/holds.html
I have a bursar hold and cannot register. What do I do?
• It is most likely that you have an overdue bill. You should contact the Bursar’s Office. They have a great Live Chat function available on their website.
Bursar’s Office | bursar.unm.edu

If I drop a course, will I lose my scholarship?
• There are a lot of intricacies in scholarship requirements; you should contact the Financial Aid Office. They have a great Live Chat function available on their website.
UNM Financial Aid Office | financialaid.unm.edu

I have transfer credits. Where do I send them?
• Have your official transcripts sent to apply@unm.edu. If you have already sent them, but they aren’t showing up, you can ask your advisor to check if UNM has received them.

I have GI benefits, what are my requirements to keep my scholarships?
• The Veteran and Military Resource Center are experts on the various GI Bill benefits. You should speak with them to clarify your benefits.
Veteran & Military Resource Center | vrc.unm.edu

I want to change my major, what do I do?
• You should first discuss the possibility of changing majors with your ROTC Cadre. They will need to approve the change. To declare your new major, you will need to meet with an Academic Advisor for that major—not the ROTC Advisor. You will also need to meet with the ROTC Advisor to create a new/updated degree plan.
