Academic dismissal or suspension from UNM's School of Engineering is a serious matter with several implications.

- Removal from any registered courses
- Removal from current program of study
- Ineligibility to compete in NCAA athletics as defined by NCAA
- Potential loss of housing assignment (if a resident)
- Ineligibility to receive financial aid

 Students are permanently ineligible to return to SOE after a dismissal or suspension has taken effect

I understand that my petition has been approved and I will be granted a semester under the conditions listed above to make academic progress and continue pursuing a major within the School of Engineering at the University of New Mexico. Failure to uphold the provision(s) set forth will result in academic dismissal or suspension that cannot be reversed through additional petition.
